

THE PROFESSIONAL JOCKEYS ASSOCIATION

The Professional Jockeys Association (the PJA) is the trade association representing the interests of professional Jockeys throughout Great Britain

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

This is an exciting and challenging role working with professional athletes. Based in Newbury you will work with a small highly motivated team and report to the PJA Board.

You will manage effective relationships with all the major organisations within the racing industry including the British Horseracing Authority, the Racehorse Owners Association and the National Trainers Federation and with the Press and media.

You will represent the PJA on the Horsemen's Group, with the Government, in negotiations with the British Horseracing Authority, and work with a number of other racing organisations and committees, particularly those relating to the welfare and training of Jockeys.

Skills and knowledge required

- An in-depth knowledge of the horse racing industry, its structure, and its rules and regulations
- The ability to build and maintain a good working relationship both with PJA members and other organisations within the racing industry
- Excellent PR and media skills
- Business planning and management
- Good written, communication and negotiation skills
- People management

An excellent remuneration package is offered.

Please forward your CV with covering letter to Ann Saunders, Human Resources Manager, The Professional Jockeys Association, 39-B Kingfisher Court, Newbury RG14 5SJ. Or by email to as@thepja.co.uk or Fax: 01635 37932
